MENACE OF NEW POWERFUL GANG OVER MID-WEST

Touhy-Dillinger Union Is Linked With Recent Crimes

Chicago, Dec. 16—(AP)—The menace of a new and powerful crime ring hung over the middle-west today, police said, as they sought the perpetrators of two major crimes in Chicago.

One was the brutal slaying of a police officer by a desperado he approached to question, and the other was the daring daylight looting of almost 100 safety deposit boxes in a closed bank.

In both the name of one man—John Hamilton—stood out as the connecting link between heretofore unrelated gangs, the Touhys and the Dillingers.

Police said Hamilton had been identified from photographs by witnesses and others as the man who shot down Detective Sergeant William Shanley Thursday afternoon in a northside garage when the officer approached him and a woman companion, who was captured.

In Bank Robbery

At the same time Joseph Kinch, custodian of the safety deposit vault of the Unity Trust & Savings Bank, identified Hamilton's picture as one of the seven desperados who spent most of the afternoon of that day before pilfering the contents of boxes.

Hamilton, reputed a confederate of John Dillinger, paroled convict of the Indiana state penitentiary who was delivered by pals in a raid on a jail in Lima, O., during which a Sheriff was slain, was one of the prisoners who broke out of the Hoosier prison at Michigan City last September.

The link between the Dillinger forces, accused of a series of bank robberies in three states since the prison break, was established, police said when Touhy, Basil Hugh Banghart, Charles (Ice Wagon) Connors and Frank (Porky) Dillon had been "partially" identified as members of the bank robber gang.

Once Bench Mates

Captain Dan Gilbert of the State's Attorney's office recalled that Dillinger and Tommy Touhy had once been bench mates in the Michigan City prison.

Police Captain John Steg said the joining of forces was probably due to the need for funds by the Touhys for the defense of four of their number, including Roger Touhy, in their trial for the kidnaping of John Factor, of which they are accused.

But he blamed the state of Indiana for making such a union of criminals possible. Laxity on the part of prison officials he said made possible the sensational prison escape.

Meanwhile the hunt went on for Hamilton with police working on orders to "shoot first and ask questions later." Last night police said they had been informed he had dyed his hair and eyebrows black.

His woman companion, Mrs. Elaine Dent, was still being held in custody as officers sought to obtain information from her that would help in rounding up the gang.

AFTER KIDNAPERS

Chicago, Dec. 16—(AP)—Plans for a nation-wide hunt for a gang of kidnapers, with every resident of the 48 states to take part, were launched today by State's Attorney Thomas J. Courtney.

Chief of those sought are W. A. Hendrickson, former county highway policeman; John (Handsome Jack) Klutas, reported to have undergone surgery to alter his features and destroy his fingerprints; Charles (Ice Wagon) Connors, and Basil Hugh Banghart, the latter two classed by Courtney as Chicago gangsters.

Courtney said he had information that the four have started raising a defense fund for Roger Touhy and three members of his Chicago gang who are charged with the kidnaping of John Factor.

The State's Attorney said pictures of the four would be scattered over the country, made available to newspapers, plastered on the walls of railroad stations and courthouses, and given to police officials of every state, city, county and village.

Theaters To Aid

Every motion picture theatre in the country, Courtney said, would be asked to flash the pictures of the fugitives on the screen, with a request that each member of the audience watch out for them.

"We intend to make the features of these men familiar to every citizen in the nation," Courtney said. "Eventually each one of them

Seventeen of Crew of Burning Fishing Schooner Rescued; Two Drowned; Seven Reported Missing This Morn

Halifax, N. S., Dec. 16—(AP)—Seventeen seamen of the American fishing schooner Ellen T. Marshall were rescued today, two were known drowned and seven were missing after the schooner burned near Seal Island, 18 miles west of Cape Sable, N. S.

A ship rescued eight of the survivors from their lifeboats, eight more made Pease's Island safely, and one got ashore on Seal Island.

The schooner was abandoned by her crew of 25 at 7 P. M. last night when she burned to the water's edge. The crew escaped the flames in eight dories.

One of the dories was reported at Seal Island to have reached the surf, only to overturn. One of the occupants reached shore and the succor of Seal Island fishermen. The other two drowned.

The Danish steamer Lars Kruse reported by wireless the rescue of eight men from two lifeboats.

The government steamer Arras put to sea from Shelburne, N. S., in an effort to aid the Lars Kruse's rescue work.

SWA PROGRAM IN COUNTY TO COST FOURTH MILLION

Wages on Projects Will Amount to $238,350; $133,094 in City

The activities of the Civil Works Administration in Lee County will have a considerable beneficial effect during the coming months, for projects already approved and under way will bring in a total of $238,350 in wages alone in this county. Further appropriations from the federal funds for tools, material and equipment, which will be purchased locally, amount to a total of $248,943.

The projects that have been approved for the city of Dixon and are already under way will provide wages to the total of $133,094.50 and projects in other townships and in the county in general total $105,256 in wages alone.

The grand total of federal funds that will come to the city and county both amount to $238,350, all of which will circulate in local channels of trade and benefit the public at large as well as the individuals to whom it is paid.

The county's quota of 810 men is now filled, all of this number now being employed on the several improvement projects in every township of Lee county.

The approval of two new projects was received this morning by J. E. Reagan, county certifying officer at his office here. The village of Sublette sponsored a project which provided for the laying of water pipe and installation of stop boxes at an estimated cost of $650 which was approved in the federal offices in Chicago.

The federal department also approved the project of the Amboy junior high school for the cleaning of the building at an estimated expense of $724.

NEGRO LYNCHED BY TENNESSEE MOB LAST EVE

Seized After Grand Jury Refused Bill of Indictment

Columbia, Tenn., Dec. 16—(AP)—A 20-year-old Negro a grand jury refused to indict on a charge of attempted attack on an 11-year-old girl was lynched near here last night.

The body of the victim, Cord Cheek, was found suspended from a rope tied to the limb of a tree after Sheriff Claude Godwin said he received an anonymous telephone call advising that he would find a "dead Negro at the forks of the road" in the Glendale section nearby.

In response to a request to "come and get him" the Sheriff said he went to the place designated and found the body. Godwin said marks which appeared to have been made by bullets were found on the body and that the Negro apparently died shortly before being hanged.

The attempted attack on the girl, an orphan, was alleged to have occurred.

WOMAN STARTED COPS ON FALSE MURDER TRAILS

She Confessed Killing A Pasadena Dentist, Then Denied It

Pasadena, Cal., Dec. 16—(AP)—Led on a false trail by a woman who screamed a confession to the killing of Dr. Leonard Siever, 44, prominent dentist, and later retracted her statement, police turned again today to a study of the life of the dentist in hope of uncovering some clue to explain his death.

Pasadena, Dec. 16—(AP)—The woman, identified as Yvonne Howard, 34, of Inglewood, Cal., screaming she had committed a murder, was taken into custody and confessed, police said, to the killing of Dr. Siever, socialite and art patron, here last Tuesday night. She said Siever had "double-crossed" her.

Stopped Pedestrian

The woman, police said, stopped a man on the street at Hawthorne this morning and shrieked:

"I killed Dr. Siever."

Police were summoned immediately. Detective Lieutenant Thomas Collins brought the woman here. He said she refused to talk further.

Police said she claimed to have known Dr. Siever for eight years and formerly lived in South Pasadena.

Beyond the assertion she had been tricked by the dentist, police said they had obtained no additional explanation for a motive. An investigation was begun to determine whether the woman actually shot the dentist.

Many Women In Life

The detention of Miss Howard came after authorities had pried into the private affairs of the doctor and discovered his friendship with many women—society figures, actresses, musicians, teachers and business women.

Police had inclined toward a theory of jealousy on the part of some person.

The dentist was slain early on Tuesday night as he was about to enter his expensive automobile, parked in the head and back. His body was found the next morning by a

LINDBERGH AND ANNE RETURN TO HOMELAND TODAY

End Five-Months Odyssey on Waters of Miami, Fla. Bay

Miami, Fla., Dec. 16—(AP)—Col. and Mrs. Charles A. Lindbergh alighted here at 12:08 P. M., C. S. T. today to complete the last link in an aerial odyssey that began more than five months ago.

Colonel Lindbergh set his large red hydro-monoplane down on the waters of the international airplane base after flying the 900 miles from San Pedro, Dominican Republic, in six hours and 33 minutes.

A cheer rolled up from the watchers as the big plane was sighted in the southern sky. Over familiar waters, Lindbergh circled the base for favoring wind and then brought the ship down smoothly.

With the landing, the flying Lindberghs returned to their homeland after a semi-vacation absence that began as an exploratory expedition of the North Atlantic islands in July. Later, completing their mission of surveying for a possible North Atlantic airline route, the couple visited many European countries.

From Cloudless Sky

Appearing from out of the almost cloudless sky, the Lindbergh plane was flying at approximately 2,000 feet when first sighted. The Flying Colonel brought the craft down to a few hundred feet above the water in a long sweeping glide before making his first circle.

In a message sent from the plane this morning—transmitted by Mrs. Lindbergh, who has maintained the world's contact with the red ship during its flights—the Colonel requested that there be no official welcome or ceremony and accordingly there was none.

The squad of motorcycle police surrounded an automobile, parked at the end of the gangplank leading off the landing barge, waiting to take the fliers to an unannounced destination.

POWER OF LABOR BOARD WILL BE MADE COURT TEST

NRA Chief Turns Dispute Over to Dept. of Justice

Washington, Dec. 16—(AP)—Reports from Justice Department men go today to Attorney General Cummings for use in an apparently inevitable court contest over the right of the National Labor Board to supervise elections at which employees select persons to represent them in collective bargaining.

The federal agents yesterday watched orderly balloting at plants of the Weirton Steel Company at Weirton and Clarkburg, W. Va., and Steubenville, Ohio. Ernest T. Weir, chairman of the Weirton Company, refused to let National Labor Board men supervise the election; the board insisted it had that right under an agreement which Weir signed but subsequently abrogated.

Two Procedures

What action would be taken first in Washington was doubtful. High S. Johnson, NRA Administrator, planned two things: first, to ask Cummings to prosecute the company for violation of the steel code; second, to suggest the National Compliance Board to take away Weirton's blue eagle. He said he would wait until the Labor Board had decided upon its course.

The board, meanwhile, had gathered facts through its own representatives which its members said they believed would impel a federal judge to enjoin from interfering with the balloting. Weir still contended the board had violated the original agreement which he said he thought gave the "company union" the right to run the election.

11,500 Workers Voted

In all, around 11,500 employees of the Weirton plants chose 49 men to represent them in wage-hour negotiations with their employers. It was argued by the Labor Board that the supervising company union did not really, and freely, represent the workers while Johnson added that "when an election is held by a company x x x a man has to vote with his eye on his boss."

Weir said the company union was representative and that furthermore he did not intend to continue arguing with Johnson in the newspapers.

St. Louis' Chief of Police Is Out

St. Louis, Dec. 16—(AP)—Control of the St. Louis Police Department today passed out of the hands of Joseph A. Gerk, veteran chief and nationally known law enforcement officer, into those of Capt. John J. McCarthy, who became Acting Chief.

Gerk, the Police Board announced, was placed on an indefinite furlough at his own request. He has about a year to serve before becoming eligible for retirement.

Robert Kaiser, Chief of Detectives, was reduced to the rank of Captain and assigned to the mounted district, and Capt. John J. Carroll was promoted to fill the vacancy. Kaiser, the board said, was reduced at his own request.

Mrs. Farrand Remembered the Needy Children of Dixon During Her Last Hours On Earth; Sent Contribution

Paused in Preparations to Die; Mailed $25 in Cash

Mrs. R. S. Farrand, whose lifeless body was discovered hanging in a closet in her home in Dixon yesterday noon, paused in her preparations for taking her life to anonymously mail $25 to the Evening Telegraph Goodfellow Club.

On Thursday afternoon the Goodfellow department received an envelope through the mail, addressed to the Goodfellows and containing $25 in currency, but no note or marks identifying the sender with the money. The donation was listed in Friday's Telegraph as "Friend.....$25."

The handwriting on the envelope was quite distinctive and was obviously that of an elderly person. The letter had been mailed in Dixon and bore the local postoffice stamp dated Dec. 14, at 12:30 P. M.

When neighbors discovered Mrs. Farrand's body they found a note, with directions for notifying relatives, undertaker, etc., in her handwriting and comparison with that writing and the writing on the Goodfellow envelope left no possible room for doubt that Mrs. Farrand's almost last act was to send $25 to help out the Christmas fund for Dixon youngsters.

One Last Helpful Act

This poor, lonely soul who had enough of life on this earth would not leave it with one last helpful act for the children of the poor families of this city. Utterly despondent and facing a ghastly death, her distraught mind had room for compassion for little children who should have gifts at Christmas time and she who knew her hours were numbered and was about to step into eternity took time to attend to sending her Goodfellow donation.

But lots of people, it seems, are too busy with their Christmas shopping to get their Goodfellow donation.

EXPRESS TRUCK DRIVER GONE: SO IS $39,000

Chicago Police Seek Man Who Walked Away With Cash

Chicago, Dec. 16—(AP)—Police squads searched today for an express driver who disappeared with $39,000 in cash and a pistol which they feared he would not hesitate to use, if cornered.

The hunted man was Albert R. Hammel, an employee of the Brinks Express Company, who walked away from an armored truck when it stopped late yesterday at a loop bank.

When two guards who went into the bank to make a collection, returned to the truck they gave a signal for the driver to open the vehicles doors, but got no response. Hammel and the money which came from the First National Bank had disappeared as though by conjury.

A note, which friends of the missing man said was in his handwriting, was found in the truck. It merely said Hammel had stepped out for a moment.

One theory was that he may have been kidnapped, but investigators said they found no evidence to substantiate this.

At Hammel's home, his wife said he was a hard-working, sober person, subject, lately, to dizzy spells. She said she believed he had been abducted. She became hysterical when told of his disappearance.

He had been hired last March, a Brinks official told police, and was bonded.

There IS a Santa Claus!

Will they look out on a barren doorstep Christmas morn? Or will their eyes brighten at the sight of a basket of food, toys, clothing, left by a Santa Claus who proved real after all? Pennies, dimes and dollars contributed to the Goodfellows' Christmas fund will buy immeasurable joy and fresh hope for weary and disheartened mothers, tattered youngsters.

Mayor of Kankakee and Four City Councilmen Found on CWA Payroll; Salary Checks are Ordered Held Up

Terse Items of News Gathered in Dixon During Day

Harold McCleary of South Dixon township returned home Friday morning from Chicago where his two carloads of fed western lambs topped the market. The sale was made by the Chicago Producers Commission Association.

UNDERESTIMATED ROLL

Tabulation of the CWA checks mailed out to Lee county workers yesterday and today for their work the past week shows that the total exceeds the $10,000 estimate announced yesterday. The actual payments for the week amount to $11,900.

GOT STATE PAY

Employees of the Dixon state hospital received their pay checks for the month of November this morning. The pay roll at the local institution represents approximately $22,000 which is being released today, making a neat sum to be expended at the holiday season among the Dixon merchants.

PASTOR CALLED AWAY

Dr. L. W. Walter, pastor of St. Paul's Lutheran church, left this morning for Middlebury, Pa., in response to a telegram stating that his mother, Mrs. Alice Walter, who has visited here many times, and who has scores of friends in Dixon had been taken to a hospital, critically ill. Rev. P. H. Stahl of the Nachusa Orphanage will conduct the services at St. Paul's tomorrow.

REPAIRING BOOKS

A crew of men started work this morning at the Dixon public library carefully inspecting the several thousand volumes in the various departments. The men are working under the CWA program and will repair any damaged books, the work being carried on under the supervision of an experienced binder. It is expected that another improvement project for the library will be submitted later to furnish employment for men who have finished other projects and the work being of a type which can be carried on under winter conditions.

William Coakley Died This Morn

William I. Coakley, aged 77, a resident of Dixon for many years, passed away at 2:30 this morning following a lingering illness with many complications. Funeral services will be conducted from the Preston chapel Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock with interment in Oakwood.

As for the others, he said he gave them work because they were men of families and were without jobs other than their council positions which he said paid them $72 a year. Two of them, Carter and Le Beau, he said are Republicans. Rex is a Democrat. His salary as Mayor is $600 a year.

Louis Joseph Vance, Famous Author, Burned to Death, Result of Falling Asleep While Smoking a Cigarette

New York, Dec. 16—(AP)—Louis Joseph Vance, well known author, was burned to death early today at his east side apartment, apparently the result of falling asleep with a lighted cigarette in his hand.

Vance, 54, was found seated in a chair, his hands and face badly burned.

Smoke from the blaze, which was confined to his clothing and body, attracted attention of an employee of the apartment. The blaze was extinguished quickly but the author was found to be dead.

Vance was born in Washington and attended Brooklyn Polytechnic Institute. The first book, published in 1905, was "Terrence O'Rourke, Gentleman Adventurer."

Since that time, he has written a score of other popular novels, some of them best sellers of their day. He also was a prominent contributor of short stories, verse and serial novels to periodicals,

"TORCH" WIDOW'S CASE TO JURORS THIS AFTERNOON

Accused Rockford Woman Weeps As Her Lawyer Pleads

BULLETIN

Rockford, Ill., Dec. 16—(AP)—A jury was given the case of Mrs. May Hanson, alleged "torch" murderer of her husband, Earl, at 12:40 P. M. today.

Robert E. Nash, State's Attorney, in his closing argument told the jury that it would require courage to bring in a verdict of guilty.

"However," he said, "I am trusting to your honor to do so. I am not making any recommendation as to penalty, but you have heard the testimony. In my judgment the facts and circumstances warrant a verdict that murder has been committed by this defendant."

The jury was expected to adjourn for lunch before beginning its deliberations.

Rockford, Ill., Dec. 16—(AP)—Mrs. May Hanson broke down and wept for the first time during her trial today as defense attorney John E. Goemmel pleaded with the jury to "spare her from the electric chair."

Goemmel declared there had not been one scrap of evidence that Mrs. Hanson doused her husband with gasoline and then applied a match as he sat in his automobile last May 14.

"I ask you to square your own consciences," Goemmel told the jury, "and not orphan Junior" (Mrs. Hanson's 12-year-old daughter) by sending her mother to the electric chair."

The child sobbed as Goemmel mentioned the electric chair. Mrs. Hanson, who had chewed gum and sat nonchalantly at ease during the trial, burst into tears, and tears rolled down Goemmel's cheeks.

Death Not Asked

The defense attorney made reference to the electric chair despite the fact that State's Attorney Robert E. Nash had not demanded the death penalty, and the jury had not been qualified for it.

"Every action of this woman betrays the theory of guilt," Goemmel said. "That child (pointing to June) is the apple of her mother's eye, and all she has to live for."

"Let us sum up this case. What has the state proved? Nothing. Are you going to take this flimsy evidence and doom her to the electric chair?"

"The state's case has been a fine defense for the type of automobile Hansen owned, but a poor case against the defendant."

The defense has maintained that a mechanical defect in the automobile caused the fire that cost Hanson's life. Prosecutors summoned technical witnesses to testify the fire could not have been started by automobile. A dairy and letters containing alleged threats against Hanson by his wife were introduced as showing a motive for killing Hanson.

After the conclusion of Goemmel's closing plea at 11 A. M., there remained only Nash's rebuttal and the judge's instructions to the jury.

Officers here said they did not know the Negro was in the section until the body was found. He had been released in Nashville where he was taken for safekeeping.

Julius R. McDonald said the girl identified Check as the Negro who attempted to attack her. He said "feeling ran pretty high for a time" but seemed to have quieted down.

Jap Propaganda Is Sent to Honolulu

Washington, Dec. 16—(AP)—

Customs officials have seized 1250 pamphlets shipped to Honolulu from Japan and are holding them to determine whether they violate tariff prohibitions against documents inciting war, insurrection or rebellion.

Copies of the pamphlets are being forwarded to Washington for examination to determine whether they violate the law.

The step was made known at the Treasury today where officials said the pamphlets were attached to copies of a Japanese magazine.

Customs officials at Honolulu found them inserted in the magazines and on checking with consignees found that the pamphlets had not been ordered.

The shipment was seized and is being held pending a decision in Washington.

Officials said they were not aware of the contents of the pamphlets, but there were unofficial reports they described a supposed war between the United States and Japan in which Japan was the victor.

ROBT. CHAMBERS,
ARTIST-AUTHOR,
DIED THIS MORN

Death Followed an Operation in New York Hospital Recently

New York, Dec. 16—(AP)—

Robert W. Chambers, noted author and artist, died in Doctors' Hospital here at midnight following an operation performed several days ago for an intestinal ailment.

Chambers, who was 68 years old, had been in the hospital nearly three months and three days ago underwent an operation. His condition failed to improve and early today he died.

The author of many thrilling and historical fiction works will be buried in Broadalbin, N. Y., where he has a large estate.

Walter B. Chambers, his brother, said the body would be taken to Broadalbin either today or tomorrow for the funeral, to be held on Monday at the estate.

Started as Painter

Chambers is survived by his widow, his brother, and one son, Robert Edward Stuart Chambers.

Chambers was born in Brooklyn, N. Y., and started to be a painter, studying at the Julian Academy and L'Ecole des Beaux Arts in Paris.

After returning to the United States he did illustrations for periodicals, including "Life," "Vogue" and "Truth."

But painting was not to be his means of expression, and his fertile imagination demanded the printed page as a means of outlet. So in 1893 he published "In the Quarter," the first of a long and popular series of novels and works of fiction that brought him wide fame.

WOMAN STARTED COPS ON FALSE MURDER TRAIL

The intimate diary of Dr. Siever revealed that he may have been killed for any of many reasons the police announced. The emotional diary of the man, disclosed him as a gay, lothario and zestful woman whose pursuit of love led him into forbidden places and danger.

Love letters, hotel bills bearing witness to an amorous rendezvous with a married woman, and the diary, crammed with passionate phrases, only served to add to the troubles of authorities as they sought the person or persons who shot down the dentist in front of the Scottish Rite cathedral during a driving rain.

Born in Russia

There were many women in the life of the 44-year-old Russian-born dentist, police said. The theory that jealousy prompted the killing was still uppermost as the investigation progressed.

Police announced they were with out clues as to the identity of a young woman, described as an attractive brunette, who dashed breathlessly into the office of Dr. Siever an hour before he was slain and held an excited, whispered conversation with him. It was apparent, the authorities stated, that the young woman sought to warn Dr. Siever of his impending fate.

An inquest into the slaying was to be held today in Los Angeles.

NEWS CHURCHES

GRACE CHURCH

The meeting in progress in Grace evangelical church under the leadership of Dr. Conant will continue for one more week; the afternoon and evening services have been very uplifting and inspiring. Surely Dr. Conant is a man of God, who knows the word, and exhorts same without fear or favor; many should avail themselves of this wonderful opportunity to learn the Word, to hear God talking to us then his humble servant and sinners to have same privilege, to be saved; how much it would mean to all of us to be in right relationship to our God and King at this Christmas Season and hereafter.

During a recent convention a delegate gave a wonderful report of Dr. S. D. Gordon's wonderful, inspiring spiritual messages and said, "he would advise his hearers, to go miles to hear him, if they had the opportunity; when this same delegate was told that Dr. S. D. Gordon had been in her own town for a season, and herself and hearers, missed this great opportunity she was amazed and saddened. The same will be true if the people of Dixon, all Christian people, and those who are preaching and teaching the Word, do not hear Dr. Conant. There will be service all day Sunday; every one invited in the city and vicinity of Dixon. Come and we will do thee good."

SUN RISE
T WAS the morn: Apollo's upward fire
Made every eastern cloud a silvery pyre
Of brightness so unsullied,
That therein
A melancholy spirit well might win
Oblivion, and melt out his essence
Into the wind, (rain-scented eglantine
Gave temperate sweets to that well wooing sun;
The lark was lost in him; cold springs had run
To warm their chilliest bubbles in the grass;
Man's voice was on the mountains;
And the mass
Of nature's lives and wonders pulsed tenfold.
To feel this sun-rise and its glories old!

CRANBERRY, MINCE MEAT MIXTURE MAKES DELICIOUS CHRISTMAS PIE

Novel Tree Design Gives Holiday Dessert Striking Effect

By NEA Service—

Mince meat and cranberries are traditional favorites on holiday menus. Combining them to make a delicious Christmas pie is a novel idea sure to win approval.

If the pie served is decorated with a pastry Christmas tree it adds beauty to the table and tempts the appetites of the Christmas guests although they may have eaten far too much roast goose by the time the dessert course is served.

Place the concoction in a pie tin lined with pastry. In honor of Christmas, cut pie dough the shape of a Christmas tree and place it right on top. With a star shaped cookie cutter, make a little star to go up at the top of the tree. Decorate the end of each branch with a whole, uncooked cranberry. Place the pie in a hot oven (400 F.) and let it bake for about 35 minutes. Don't let the pie crust get too brown.

The white tree decorated with red berries stands out against the dark background of mince meat and cranberries and makes a simply beautiful dessert.

Place the whole pie, uncut, right on the table and cut and serve it here.

Happy Surprise For Frances Gerdes

Miss Frances Gerdes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Gerdes, was delightfully surprised on Thursday evening at her home, when a number of her classmates called on her there and completely surprised her in honor of her fourteenth birthday anniversary. The rooms of the home, and the dining table where delicious refreshments were served were gaily decorated in the Christmas decorations. A tempting birthday cake red and white, graced the center of the table, decorated in the holiday colors, and with the red tapers and other decorations appropriate for an occasion of the kind, made a lovely setting.

Bridge was the diversion of the evening after which a grab bag caused lots of fun.

It was a merry occasion for all present. A tempting luncheon was served, after which Miss Frances was presented with a lovely gift as a token of friendship from the girls.

At a late hour all departed wishing Miss Frances many more happy birthdays.

CARNERA SAYS

HE'LL TAKE ON

TOM LOUGHRAN

Florida Maybe Given the

Title Battle During the Winter

New York, Dec. 16 —(AP)— For the first time in 39 years, Florida will play host to a heavyweight championship bout this winter if Madison Square Garden can clear up a few little odds and ends.

The Garden announced yesterday that Primo Carnera had agreed to defend his title against Tommy Loughran in Miami Feb. 22, but no contracts have been signed and Primo still will have to get approval from Louis Soreli, Italian banker who shares the champion's management with Billy Duffy.

Carnera insists, however, that Soreli quickly will give his consent to the bout, first heavyweight title match in Florida since Jim Corbett knocked out Charley Mitchell at Jacksonville and first winter duel for the championship since Jack Dempsey beat Bill Brennan in the old Garden in 1920.

Although Garden officials said Loughran had agreed to the big match, there were rumblings that the Philadelphia, who conquered Jack Sharkey and Ray Impellitteri in his last two stars, still was seeking to get better terms than the 12 1-2 per cent of the receipts customarily granted challengers.

Both Are Confident

But close followers of the game were convinced "Tommy, however much he might argue over the financial arrangements, would not pass up an opportunity to win the title he has wanted for so long. He thinks he can whip the big champion.

But Carnera is just as confident. "I want to fight everyone," he declared as he was leaving for Italy yesterday afternoon, after a

36-hour visit here. "I want to fight Loughran, then in June, Max Baer. I lick Baer too. He's too conceited."

Primo plans to return here in January for the Loughran bout as well as for another appearance in the bankruptcy proceedings which necessitated his flying trip here this time. The big Italian needs money. He testified he made only $385 out of the bout with Jack Sharkey when he won the title, and in his first defense of the crown, against Paulino Uzcudun in Rome, brought him virtually no cash and not much glory.

He won't fight Max Schmeling, though.

"For years he kept me waiting," Carnera said of the Teuton. "Then he refused to give me a chance. Now I won't give him a chance. I won't fight anyone who fights him, either."

NATIONAL PRO

GRID TITLE IS

ISSUE TOMORROW

Chicago Bears to Defend

Title at Wrigley

Field, Chicago

Chicago, Dec. 6 — (AP)— Each loaded to the guards with everything it takes to make a great football team, the Chicago Bears and the New York Giants will battle for the national professional gridiron championship tomorrow at Wrigley Field.

Keyed up by excitement of the hottest-contested battle, one of the biggest crowds indoor wrestling has attracted here was brought to its feet, shouting, by the sight of Everett and Paul in a toe-to-toe slugfest. London returned to the ring but kept to his corner.

As police entered the ring Marshall seemed unimpressed and immediately started swapping punches with anyone and everyone. Some excited spectators attempted to clamber into the ring, about this time but were held back by the police.

Meanwhile, Billy Sandow, Marshall's manager tried to pacify the enraged battler and got a punch on the jaw for his pains. Then Marshall rushed at a police inspector and pushed him into the press row.

Finally Subdued

After about 10 minutes of one of the wildest scenes ever witnessed in a Philadelphia ring, the wrestler was subdued and later apologized to all concerned.

"Marshall's conduct was disgraceful," said Commissioner Robert Nelson, "and the commission will go into the matter thoroughly. If the boy's temperament is such that he can't control himself in the ring, he can't wrestle in the state of Pennsylvania."

Many Stars in Game

The giants also have such stars as Strong, Kink Richards, Bo Bolenda, Flaherty, Owen and Badgro.

Bill Hewitt, rated as the greatest end in the pro game, Red Grange, the still elusive galloping ghost, Big Bronko Nagurski and Jack Manders, who has not missed a point after touchdown and has won several games with timely field goals, will carry the offensive load for the Bears.

Under the championship playoff system being used for the first time this season, the winner will get 60 per cent of the receipts. Each club will get 15 per cent, with the remaining 10 per cent going to the league. The players' pool will be split, 60 per cent to the winners and 40 per cent to the losers.

With good weather a crowd of 25,000 is expected to watch the combat.

Nine Big 10 Teams

In Action Tonight

Chicago, Dec. 16 —(AP)— Nine Big Ten basketball teams will see action against all kinds of competition in the biggest night of the pre-season schedule to date.

Northwestern will entertain Pittsburgh, which last night lost a 33 to 27 decision to Purdue in a rough game. The officials called 25 personal fouls, and each team lost a man for four such offenses.

Michigan will open an eastern invasion against Pennsylvania, and Wisconsin will tackle Marquette in another major battle. In the other games, Bradley will meet Chicago Ohio State entertains Western Ontario, Illinois Wesleyan, coached by Wallie Roettz', major league baseball star, plays at Illinois; Minnesota faces St. Thomas, Carleton goes to Iowa, and Indiana meets Wabash.

CUBS BUY BEN TATE

Chicago, Dec. 15 —(AP)— Completing the round-up, the Chicago Cubs today purchased Benny Tate, a catcher, from Montreal of the International League. He was a cash deal. Tate formerly caught for the Chicago White Sox.

Tosses London Out of the Philadelphia, Dec. 16 —(AP)— Young Everett Marshall, Colorado cowboy, failed to dislodge Jim London from his place among the heavyweight wrestlers, but before he got through trying he pummeled almost everyone he could reach, including the referee, his manager and police.

His tactics earned him a disqualification, however, and his purse was suspended by the State Athletic Commission.

Claimed was a mental lapse caused by a blow Marshall turned on Referee Ben Paul last night because the official refused to permit him to follow London who had been thrown from the ring. The men had been wrestling about an hour and 10 minutes. London weighed 200 and Marshall 214.

CANZONERI IS

EASY VICTOR IN

GARDEN BATTLE

He Defeated Courageous

Italian Champion

In Ten Rounds

New York, Dec. 16 —(AP)— Tony Canzoneri was back knocking at Barney Ross' door again today, demanding another chance to regain the lightweight championship.

The doughy little New Yorker qualified for another title shot last night when he handed Anacleto Locatelli, gamster from Italy a bad beating in Madison Square Garden.

That victory, gained on points in ten rounds, left Tony more than ever a logical contender for Ross, the young Chicagoan who won the lightweight title from him at Chicago in June and then beat him again in a return match here just three months later.

The Garden indicated it was now making every effort to match Tony and Ross for the third time as a feature of the outdoor season early in the spring.

Invader Courageous

That Canzoneri did not score his third successive knockout victory last night can be credited to the courage and stamina of the Italian holder of the European lightweight crown. He was almost out on his feet at the finish but Canzoneri, try as he did, could not floor the invader.

Canzoneri cut his rival about the face, bloodied his nose and pounded him around, but Locatelli made a fight of it all the way, especially when he opened up after the fifth and elected to trade punch for punch with the willing Tony.

From there on it was a slam-

NIGHT AIR HAS MORE RADIO-ACT- IVE MATERIALS Its Effect on Human Beings Has Not Been Fixed

Washington, Dec. 16.—(AP)—A new discovery about the night air that grandmother used to think so unhealthful, showing that people who breathe it take into their systems one-third more radio-active matter than in the daytime, was explained here today by several Carnegie Institution scientists.

In large enough amounts, radio-active material in the body can be very harmful, as illustrated by people who drank "radium water" and wetted brushes full of radium paint with their lips to paint watch dials.

The discovery that we breathe more radio-active matter at night raises some interesting questions as to whether this affects the body, said the scientists. They demonstrated it at the annual exhibition of the institution's scientific work that opened today. So far, of course, there is no evidence that it is harmful.

Both day and night the human system takes in small amounts of radio-active material in the form of radon and thoron, which float as gases in the air, but the night air contains about 30 per cent more.

Ohio Man Ate 42 Pancakes to Win Dist. Honors

Garrettsville O., Dec. 16.—(AP)—They stacked the pancakes high. They poured the famed maple syrup of Portage county with a liberal hand. Sausages sizzled in the skillet.

And when the pancake eating championship of northwestern Ohio was over, Charles Bartholt, a 22-year-old truck driver of Hiram, was the victor.

The score: 42 five-inch buckwheat cakes.

Seventeen men sat down at a lodge hall table last night at 7:30 P. M. Bartholt, an "unknown" so far as advance notices were concerned, hadn't eaten anything since breakfast.

At 10 P. M. the remaining contestants had to move to a side room to make way for a dance in the hall. A short while later Edward Ziska, a 28-year-old farmer of Freedom, O., who is Portage county champion, had to stop at 41 Ziska stayed for the dance. For Bartholt it was "and so to bed."

WASHINGTON'S SOCIETY WILL MISS MR. LONG

Will Have To Struggle Along Without Senator Huey

New Orleans, Dec. 16.—(AP)—Senator Huey P. Long has formally served notice to Louisiana, the press and the publishers of the Washington social register that he is now thoroughly "desocietified."

In a letter requesting the withdrawal of his name from the register, the senior Senator commented at length upon the appearance of his name in the recently printed catalogue of the Capital elite.

The plight of the authorities listing him here, he said, would be pitiful "when they are called to produce the credentials to show justification for listing me in the register."

In addition, Senator Long said that he had been disappointed in Washington society. The city was "far behind in manners," he declared, telling of an incident at a banquet there when soup was served in a cup-shaped plate, with handles on either side.

"Behind in Manners" he said, "one of the ladies at the table didn't think I would know anything about it. She leaned over to me and said: 'Governor, you can drink the soup out of this, you know.'"

"My! My! How far behind in manners was that city! Why, in the country where I had come from I had been drinking the soup out of the plate twenty years before I ever heard of Washington, and without having any handles on the plate either."

The letter concluded, "for the reasons here given, I ask you to delete my name from your register and I return herewith the copy which you so kindly sent me."

Champagne Again
Used to Christen New U. S. Warship

Bremerton, Wash., Dec. 16.—(AP)—Champagne comes back down its own in the Navy today.

When the new 10,000-ton cruiser Astoria slips down the ways this afternoon, Lella C. McKay, descendant of the founders of Astoria, Ore., is ready to shatter a bottle of champagne across the cruiser's bows ending the 14-year period of grape juice and water christening in the Pacific northwest.

Costing about $3,000,000, the big cruiser will develop 107,000 horsepower attaining a speed of 32.5 knots. She will mount nine 8-inch guns.

The UNKNOWN BLOND

By Laura Low BROOKMAN

BEGIN HERE TODAY
DAVID BANNISTER undertakes to find out who killed TRACY KING, orchestra leader, in his hotel apartment. Bannister is an author and former newspaper man. He works on the motive force with C. K. SNEY, star reporter on the Post.

Among those suspected are JULIET FRANCE, blond and pretty and known to have visited KING shortly before his death; HERMAN SCRIELACH who wrote KING a threatening letter; and JOE PARROTT, down-and-out vaudeville actor. It is also known that MELVINA A. HOLLIESTER, middle-aged woman, had quarreled with KING recently.

AL DRUGAN, friend of KING's, is found dead in a wrecked automobile.

Bannister persuades the police chief to let Juliet come to his home, ostensibly as a guest, on the theory that if the girl believes herself free they can learn more about her.

Parrott is located in St. Louis and detective is sent to bring him back. Bannister talks over the case with NEAL of the detective bureau. NEAL believes KING and Drugan were killed by gangsters and that Juliet is involved with the same gang.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY
CHAPTER XXXIII

BANNISTER spoke slowly. "You don't mean that," he said. "A girl like that—why, she couldn't have anything to do with Mug Logan's gang? She couldn't—"

"Oh, couldn't she? Maybe you'll go ahead and tell me why she was in Tracy King's apartment the night he was killed. Maybe you'll tell me the rest of it. Just because she's got a pretty face don't let that fool you. Did you ever see a gun man's doll who wasn't pretty? Why couldn't the girl be in on it, I'd like to know?"

"Listen," Bannister said, "have you any evidence to prove that she's what you think she is?"

"If I had evidence I wouldn't be sitting here talking about it. Say, why all the excitement? You haven't fallen for the dame, have you?"

"I haven't fallen for her," Bannister said bitterly, "and I don't intend to. I just wanted to get your story straight."

McNeal settled back in his chair more comfortably. "Well, then," he said, "here it is. I figure Drugan and King were both in on the deal. King's been spending a lot of money around this town. So has Drugan. They didn't get it playing in that orchestra. You know that as well as I do. Where did they get it then? I figure they were in with Logan. Never mind just why I think so. I can't go into all that now."

"Anyhow King and Drugan both have a pretty steady source of cash—a good deal more than they're earning at the State. Then King meets this Lang girl and gets engaged to her. She has money to burn. If he marries her he doesn't need his underworld friends any longer and he wants to get rid of them. You know what happens when you try to give a crowd like that the run-around? Parrott appears on the scene and about the same time the girl shows up. Some body plugs King and Drugan starts yelling that it was Parrott. So Drugan gets his. That's the way these gangsters work and that's the picture as I see it. I'll admit I haven't quite figured out the girl's part—"

"Maybe you're right about it," Bannister said heavily.

"I tell you," the detective captain went on, "you can't tell about dames. The swiftest dressed and best looking and most ladylike act—" ing one I ever saw in my life was with "Big Boy" Milano the day we found him here."

McNeal was referring to his proudest achievement—the part he had played in the capture of the New York gangster who had defied police of a dozen big cities only to be taken in Trenton.

"You don't want to let looks deceive you," he went on. "If this girl isn't mixed up with some underworld crowd why won't she talk? I'll tell you why—because she knows what happens to squealers. They're all more afraid of their own crowd than anyone else."

"Well," said Bannister, "how are you going to prove all this? What are you going to do now?"

"Give Parrott the works and see what we can get out of him. Watch the girl. If she's begun writing letters it ought to be a big help."

There was silence for several minutes. Then Bannister knocked the ashes from his cigar. "So it's just another gangster mess!" He said distastefully. "Well, Denise Lang's lucky if you're right about it. Wonder if her father had any idea of all this. I mean about where King got his money."

McNeal said, "He was in here this morning."

"Who?"

"Arthur Lang."

Bannister straightened. "Guess I didn't hear about that," he said. "What did he want?"

"Wanted to know what progress we were making with the King case. It certainly surprised me when they told me he was here. The way he talked that first morning after King was shot he seemed to think a policeman was poison! I got sore about it. He wasn't going to let us talk to his daughter at all until I finally told him what was what."

"So he wanted to know what progress you've been making," Bannister said. "I wonder just how fond Arthur Lang was of his prospective son-in-law."

"That's one I can't answer. I didn't waste much time on him. Told him we were doing all we could."

"How much would you say Lang is worth?"

"I've heard it was a million and I've heard it was five. Somewhere between the two, I suppose. He'll never starve."

"Our baby is going away. We are giving her back to her Maker today."

A lovely fair flower
She came to the earth
We are giving her back
As pure as at birth

We cry out to God, "Oh Why, Oh Why?"

But, alas, we hear no reply.
Our faith is put to a test
We must trust and believe
That He knows best.
